

SEARCH WARRANT WRITING: A HANDS-ON PRACTICAL APPROACH

June 11, 2019
Coon Rapids Municipal Utility Building
123 3rd Ave S.
Coon Rapids, IA 50058

Time: 8:00 AM – 4:30 PM

More often than not, enough probable cause is available to get an officer inside of a residence, but the ability to put the information on paper and articulate the who, what, when, why, where and how is not conveyed properly.

What you will get from this:

How to maximize your resources

The newest update search warrant templates available

Verbiage to get you in the door, with a small amount of information

Intelligence gathering, sharing and dissemination

How to find what you need on the internet

How to write a complete search warrant

Current case law

The importance of deconfliction

When to wait and when to go

How to use their information, but alleviate identifying a CS was just at the residence.

Practical hands-on, interactive experience

Required:

Wireless capable laptop with power cord and extension cord

(We will be utilizing Microsoft Word, Excel and .pdf documents for this class, so please ensure the computer is capable of opening these types of documents)

This is a 100% hands-on class. All participants are required to have a computer to utilize during the course.

Recommended:

Jump drive/flash drive

Direct link to registration: <https://counterdrugtraining.com/EBForms.aspx?EBID=12782>

Local POC: Chief Andy Klein, 641-919-1900, coonrapidspd22@gmail.com

Instructed by:

Special Agent J. Douglas Hurley of the Iowa Division of Narcotics Enforcement

Special Agent Hurley has been employed with the DNE since 1997, conducting covert and overt narcotics investigations. Special Agent Hurley instructs in areas of narcotics investigations, clan lab hazards, drug endangered children, firearms and open sight rifles. To date, Special Agent Hurley has investigated and dismantled in excess of 400 methamphetamine laboratories and serves as an expert witness in both state and federal courts. Prior to working with DNE, Special Agent Hurley was a Gaming Enforcement Officer for the Division of Criminal Investigation working in the Burlington/Ft. Madison, Iowa area from 1994 through 1997. Special Agent Hurley is a 1993 graduate of Central Missouri State University with a Bachelor of Science Degree in Criminal Justice Administration and is an original founding member of INOA, currently serving as the president.